

BULLETIN

OF

OKAZAKI WOMEN'S JUNIOR COLLEGE

Vol. XXXVIII

March, 2005

Table of Contents

Jiro Hattori : Support For A Case Considered To Be High-function -Autism — Application of TEACCH Method In A Day Nursery —	1
Tomoko Hayashi : What is Perspective Taking ? — An Analysis of the Cognition to Empathy —	15
Masami Nakada : The present condition and the subject of institution entrance accompanying apriority entrance standard (1)	23
Tomoko Ueda : Reality shock of caregiving student at 1st stage practice.....	35
Tatsuya Miura : I think the possibility of the home help service for the child — One study regarding the fluctuation and child raising support of the family function —	45
Tsuyoshi Iwabuchi : “Micro-Finance Assistance for Women” as a Social Welfare	57
Assistance Activity
Kuramoto Yonemoto, MBA : Decision-Making model that enterprises to small Medical Business	65
Taisei Kimura : The Analysis of the Japanese Labor Markets — With Special Reference to Job Security and Opportunities for Internal Promotion —	73
Toshiharu Sawairi : A study on Bookkeeping · part II — A Teaching Method for Overcoming the Gap between “ Bookkeeping in Class ” and “ Bookkeeping in Practical Business ” —	83
Jun Sakai : On the Technical Problem in Making Concordances of Old-Russian Literature — An Experimental Concordance Program for Unicode Letters —	95
Michiko Seo, Hisae Muto (Matsuo) : A Study of The use of Music in care centers for the daily living of the elderly. — Analyses of Research at special nursing homes and consciousness by college students majoring in direct care. —	105
Yoshiko Natsume : Study of vivid musical performance for children by imaging animal movements — Study of children’s piano exercise way by an analysis of the “Jimbo’s Lullaby” in the Debussy piano piece “CHILDREN’S CORNER” —	111
Hitoshi Moriyama : A Study of BASIC SKILLS in the Training of Child Care Professionals (No.3) ...	125
Michino Oiwa, Tatsuhiro Yoshida : What the Students Learned from a Day’s Teaching Experience	135
Hitomi Kamiya : Teaching Materials for Experiencing Old Age and Their Learning Effects.....	141